Academic News

Reading

“Do Animals Think” is the story for this week. The reading strategy is making inferences. We will also be writing a tale about a group of animals working together to solve a problem.

Spelling

The spelling list is Homophones, words that sound the same but have different meanings. Pretest Monday and Posttest Friday.

Language

We are going to begin a writing project about what we want or are going to do this summer.

Math

This week we will learn LATTICE! This is another way of multiplying large numbers. We will also start multiplication of 2-digit by 2-digit numbers.

Social Studies/ Science

We will continue this week with more about the solar system, seasons, moon phases, stars, etc. The kids have lots of questions that we will try to answer.
